

PAPER

- 8.5" x 11" office paper for sketching, thumbnails, taking notes
- 14 x 17 pad of bristol board – regular (vellum) or plate (smooth) surface for final artwork. Try Strathmore or Canson brand.
- Heavyweight tracing paper (also called vellum)

PENCILLING TOOLS

- An assortment of graphite pencils – you'll mainly want HB but a few softer (say 2B and 6B) and harder (4H or 6H) pencils will come in handy.
- A mechanical pencil in .5 mm or .7 mm size
- Erasers: Kneaded and white plastic

INKING TOOLS

- India ink: Koh-I-Noor Universal 3080-4, Windsor-Newton (Waterproof India ink), Dr. Ph. Martin's Black Star (Hi-Carb), or other brand of waterproof India ink (if you get the Koh-I-Noor, you will need an ink jar with a tight seal as well). Higgins brand inks are pretty watery; use them for nib pens only.
- Nib pens: a few pen nibs and holders. We recommend these starter sets:
  - Rexel Drawing Pens Set - set of eight Gillott nibs; available only at NY Central Art Supply
  - Speedball Pen Set "Sketching" (avoid the "Artists" and especially the "Cartooning" sets).
  - Deleter Trial Pen Set: assortment of Japanese nibs. Available in some comic book stores.

- Brushes: Round watercolor, size 2-4, acrylic for starters, or up to Kolinsky sable. Raphael makes a lovely sable brush; it has an orange tip. If you shell out for sable, definitely get the brush basin (see below)

- "Graphic white": white ink for correction, Deleter #2 brand recommended.
- Small/stubby round brush to apply white with
- Brush soap
- Brush basin: Highly recommended. The best kind is the square one from Plaid Industries or Masters, not the round one or other brands.

- DRAFTING TOOLS
- Clear plastic grid-style ruler, 18-inch
- Drafting tape
- T-square, 18-inch
